FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE TO UPGRADE PRESS RELEASE DISTRIBUTION

Beginning October 1, 1996, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will revise its press release distribution system. Individuals who want to continue receiving press releases from the Service have four options:

1. Paper copies. To receive paper copies through the U.S. mail, please call 202-208-5634 or write the Office of Media Services, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, 1849 C Street, NW., MS 3447, Washington, DC 20240 and provide your current mailing address. Mail service from the Interior building has been subject to extended delay.
2. Fax copies. To receive press releases via fax, call or write the Office of Media Services and provide your fax number. In most instances, fax copies will arrive within hours of the original release.
3. Electronic mail. If you have access to electronic mail, you can subscribe to the Service's electronic mailing list. Send a message to majordomo@www.fws.gov to subscribe. Leave the subject line blank. Write subscribe fws-news in the body of the electronic mail message. Digital copies should arrive at your electronic mail address within minutes of the original release.
4. World wide web. If you have full internet access, you can monitor and download the Service's press release postings at <http://www.fws.gov/~r9extaff/renews.html> on the world wide web. Press releases are posted immediately upon release.

To continue receiving press releases uninterrupted, please notify the Fish and Wildlife Service's Media Services office of your preference prior to October 1. At that time, new distribution lists based on subscriber response will be inaugurated. Distribution to individuals on the existing mailing lists will be discontinued.
